25X1 3. Mr. Ingram and Ms. Chambers were interested in a description of (1) the players in the resistance, (2) the players' relationships to each other, and (3) an assessment of their performance. Mr. Ingram and Mrs. Chambers also requested an analysis of the structure and effectiveness of the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO). []

25X1 4. [] opened the briefing with some general comments about the status of the opposition in Nicaragua.
Thereafter, briefers spent the most time on the structure of UNO and the personalities within it. The discussion, which also focused on other insurgent groups not affiliated with UNO, emphasized the shifting loyalties among and within Nicaraguan opposition organizations. Briefers also talked about the civilian opposition, which, though ineffectual to date, seems to be coalescing around the church. The emergence of the Nicaraguan Catholic Church as a possible opposition unifying force may explain the imposition of the state of emergency by
